About the City and Department

Belvedere is an affluent residential community of 2,400 residents located at the southern tip of the picturesque Tiburon Peninsula of the San Francisco Bay. Its citizenry respects the Department and its Officers, and in turn, its many professional and executive level residents expect a high degree of professionalism, combined with a service-oriented mindset from its Police Officers. The City enjoys a relatively low crime rate, however, it is not without crime and there is sufficient activity to provide a challenge to the Department's small number of personnel.

The Department consists of the Chief of Police, two Sergeants, and four Officers. The Officers are generalists who typically handle cases from the first response, through investigation, and onto final disposition. In addition, Officers frequently assist the Chief of Police with administrative duties and consult closely with him in formulation of Departmental policies, procedures and tactics. The Department is well equipped and well trained.

An Officer is assigned to one of four patrol shifts. Those assignments usually rotate every four months. Officers frequently work alone and may be required to make decisions regarding appropriate courses of action without direct supervision. The Department is committed to providing a high level of training to those Officers who desire to increase their level of proficiency.
